To whom it may concern,

Margarita Aleeva worked in the Business Department of Web Media Fontanka.ru for half a year: from January 2021 till June 2021. Moreover, before getting the job, in December 2020, she successfully completed a trainee program that showed her analytical, fact-checking, and writing skills, along with motivation and commitment.

In six months, Margarita went from a news rewriter to a correspondent and author of her own articles. Generally, 15 articles on various topics — from business to culture — were published on the Fontanka.ru website under her signature. During this time, Margarita became a more communicative and effective professional and demonstrated the ability to creative and critical thinking.

Margarita conducted interviews and analyzed a large amount of information. For example, she has made several in-depth reviews (about the IT industry, tourism, pharmaceutical business etc.), consisting of expert comments and a summary of thematic materials. Margarita also worked with a large number of statistics. For instance, she analyzed the paid education market in St. Petersburg.

Margarita Aleeva demonstrated all the skills necessary for a specialist in the field of communications and media at the beginning of her career. I strongly recommend her, as a person striving for development and learning, for admission to the Master's Programme, because high-quality education and international experience are a great contribution to personal and professional development. Equally important is the fact that, in my opinion, Margarita will be able to take advantage of the opportunities of the program for the benefit of society.

Sincerely,
Denis Lebedev
