

REFERENCE LETTER

This is to confirm that Margarita Aleeva [redacted] (date of birth [redacted]) has been employed at the Limited Liability Company "Yandex Crowd" since 09.09.2024 (Order No. [redacted] dated 29.07.2024) up to the present time, holding the position of Lead Editor-Copywriter in Complex Content Group 1 (Business Support).

During her employment, Margarita has been engaged in the preparation and editing of content for the company's internal and external communication channels. She participated in creating materials for such products and areas as Yandex Alice, Yandex Market, Yandex Cloud, Yandex Education, and Yandex Cloud.

Her responsibilities included the development and writing of text materials, including social media posts, analytical and SEO articles, the preparation of publications about new features and updates, the creation of copy for push notifications, as well as participation in special projects — the development of landing pages, training courses, and onboarding materials.

In particular, Margarita took part in creating the landing page for the Yandex × Miratorg Partnership project, and also prepared materials for the company's internal platforms aimed at a broad audience of employees. As part of her work, she collaborated with adjacent teams, including the product, design, and technical teams.

Over the period of her employment, Margarita has proven herself to be a responsible, conscientious, and detail-oriented employee. She approaches her tasks systematically, honors agreements and deadlines, and is able to adapt complex product information for different audiences and communication formats. In her working interactions, she demonstrates professionalism, independence, and a readiness to cooperate.
